

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
MIDLAND/ODESSA DIVISION

VIRTAMOVE, CORP.,
Plaintiff,

v.

GOOGLE LLC,
Defendant.

§
§
§
§
§
§
§

MO:24-CV-00033-DC

ORDER

The Court now considers VirtaMove, Corporation’s objections<sup>1</sup> to Magistrate Judge Derek Gilliland’s order transferring this case to the Northern District of California.<sup>2</sup> After considering the order, relevant law, and related briefing, the Court finds that Judge Gilliland did not commit clear error and OVERRULES VirtaMove’s objections.

While the transfer order is a brisk five pages, Judge Gilliland commits no clear error, and certainly not those VirtaMove conjures up in its objections. As the parties are aware, a district court must set aside a magistrate judge’s order if it is “clearly erroneous or contrary to law.”<sup>3</sup> But, for one reason or another, VirtaMove does not explain clearly how the order fails under this standard of review<sup>4</sup> and instead, in essence, asks the Court to offer how it

---

<sup>1</sup> ECF No. 89.

<sup>2</sup> ECF No. 86.

<sup>3</sup> 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(A); Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(a).

<sup>4</sup> See, e.g., Sparling v. Doyle, No. EP-13-CV-00323-DCG, 2016 WL 236266, at *2 (W.D. Tex. Jan. 20, 2016) (objections to Magistrate Judge’s order must “at a minimum . . . specify the standard of review[] and explain why the decision in question is reversible under that standard.”) (citation omitted).

would have held.<sup>5</sup> Of course, “[t]he clearly erroneous standard of review does not entitle the reviewing district court to reverse or reconsider the Magistrate Judge’s order simply because it would decide the matter differently.”<sup>6</sup> After review of the order, this Court finds that Judge Gilliland properly considered all the relevant transfer venue factors under Fifth Circuit jurisprudence to determine that the case should be transferred to the Northern District of California.

One last thing, VirtaMove seeks clarification between Federal and Fifth Circuit transfer venue jurisprudence.<sup>7</sup> While that may be a worthy goal to the patent bar, Judge Gilliland does not cite any Federal Circuit cases in his order, let alone any that might give rise to that particular debate here. This Court cannot step into the mind of another judge. And it is aware of no technology that would facilitate such a mind meld. Instead, this Court must review what is on the page. If Judge Gilliland applied Federal Circuit transfer venue

---

<sup>5</sup> See generally ECF No. 89.

<sup>6</sup> Harrington v. Southwestern Bell Telephone L.P., 2021 WL 2879289, at *1 (W.D. Tex. Jan. 14, 2021).

<sup>7</sup> ECF No. 89 at 7. (“If the Court is inclined to overrule these objections, VirtaMove respectfully requests that, for purposes of appeal, the Court make it explicit that its decision hinged on the application of the Federal Circuit’s interpretations of Fifth Circuit law rather than a rigid application of Fifth Circuit law, just as the Court has previously done, and that the Court would have otherwise denied transfer had Fifth Circuit law applied. See Motion Offense, LLC v. Google LLC, No. 2022 WL 5027730, at *4 (“[T]his Court cannot and does not overrule the reasoning of the Federal Circuit in a patent case. . . . the arguments are more appropriately reserved for a higher court . . . this Court must follow the Federal Circuit’s line of cases on Fifth Circuit transfer law.”); id.] at *9 (“despite . . . the “rigid” Fifth Circuit inquiry showing the greater witness travel distance and costs for trial in the NDCA, this Court must follow the Federal Circuit’s cases and weigh “the convenience-to-witnesses factor strongly in favor of transfer.”) This will clarify the issues for appeal and effectively certify for appeal the splits of transfer law that this Court has repeatedly noted in its decisions. See, e.g., Resonant Sys., Inc. v. Apple, Inc., No. MO:23-CV-00077-ADA, 2024 WL 4346391, at *8 (W.D. Tex. Apr. 18, 2024) (noting split in application of 100-mile rule). The Court should then enter the attached Proposed Order Overruling Objections to Transfer Order”).

considerations to the disputed order, he did so without any signs whatsoever in his work product. Moreover, no standard known to this Court allows objections to prompt such reading of tea leaves.

The Court therefore OVERRULES VirtaMove's objections and, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1404(a), TRANSFERS this action to the Northern District of California. The Clerk of the Court shall effect transfer in accordance with the usual procedure.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

SIGNED this 7th day of May, 2025.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "David Counts", with a stylized star or asterisk symbol to the right of the name.

DAVID COUNTS
UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE