Anthony Sammarco · 3rd

Director, Product Technology Strategy for Device Solutions Inc
June 18, 2014, Anthony worked with Murali on the same team

I was fortunate to work together with Murali in the CTO office at Sony Ericsson from 2007 – 2010. During this time, the CTO was responsible for long term technology definition, generating technology roadmaps and driving mobile development requirements for global Sony Ericsson mobile products. Murali's deep technical knowledge of the OEM device eco-system (baseband modem, AP, GPU, RF, memories, displays, etc.) was crucial for driving Sony Ericsson's mobile platform requirements into vendor components thus ensuring a platform delivery to the organization. Murali...

Michael Arber
 Software Engineer
 May 1, 2014. Michael reported directly to Murali

Murali was an outstanding software development manager at Tekelec and Catapult Communications for many years. We completed many critical projects for the wireless telecom industry that expanded the company's product suite and generated tremendous gains in revenue. As a former engineer he has the technical skills to understand the customer's requirements and solve complex problems. As a manager he knows how to motivate people to aim high and think big. He has a proven natural talent for planning, organizing, and leading large teams across remote locations ...
