

The image is a screenshot of the OSGi website's 'About OSGi' page. At the top left is the OSGi logo, which consists of a stylized globe with yellow lines radiating from it, followed by the text 'OSGi'. To the right of the logo, the text 'Open Services Gateway Initiative' is displayed. Below the logo and text is a navigation menu with six items: 'Home', 'About OSGi', 'News & Events', 'Join OSGi', 'Members Area', and 'Contacting OSGi'. The 'About OSGi' menu item is highlighted. On the left side of the page, there is a sidebar titled 'IN THIS SECTION' with a list of links: 'Introduction', 'Specification Overview', 'White Paper', 'Charter', 'By-Laws (PDF)', 'Members', 'FAQ', 'Membership Benefits', 'Board of Directors', and 'Officers'. The 'Charter' link is selected. The main content area is titled 'Charter' and contains several paragraphs of text. A dark blue box on the right side of the main content area is titled 'e-service examples' and lists various services: Alarm & Safety, Energy Management, Healthcare, Home Automation, Home Networking, Content Services, Entertainment, Home Appliance, e-Commerce, and One Point Internet. The text in the main content area describes the OSGi initiative as an open industry effort announced in March 1999, listing numerous member companies and their support for the initiative. It also outlines the mission of OSGi to create open specifications for service delivery and describes the solution as an open architecture for service providers and equipment manufacturers.
