Dear Mr. Hill,

AX wireless, LLC (“AX wireless”) maintains intellectual property assets, which have broad application in the field of wireless communications related to smartphones, tablets, computers, network devices and other various consumer electronics equipment. We inform you that AX wireless is now offering a non-exclusive license under its patent portfolio (“AX wireless Patents”) to Sony Corporation (“Sony”).

Our continued analysis of Sony’s devices (e.g., products included in the Exhibit A) and related software and hardware demonstrates that Sony makes, uses, sells, offers to sell, or imports products that infringe on AX wireless Patents (e.g. through practicing standards that are noted below) and requires a license to AX wireless Patents, including specifically the patents identified below that are essential to the Wi-Fi standards, which Sony is infringing through the making, using, and offering for sale of Wi-Fi 6 equipped devices that comport to the relevant standard specifications identified. An updated list of patents in the portfolio is provided as an attachment hereto.

We specifically call your attention to the following patents:

AX Wireless Exemplary Wi-Fi Standard Essential Patents
U.S. Pat. No.	Relevant Standard Specification
9,584,262	IEEE Std 802.11ax TM -2021
9,614,566
9,973,361
10,079,707
10,291,449
10,554,459
10,917,272

17/136,801 NOA
17/539,814 Pending
17/540,189 Pending
(see also, e.g. , CN102484567B)

AX wireless welcomes the opportunity to open constructive discussions with Sony to determine whether a mutually acceptable patent license agreement can be reached. To that end, we would like to explore an amicable business resolution at your earliest convenience. We respectfully request that you acknowledge receipt of this letter via email to me, Robert Colao (colao@axwireless.net), and I will be glad to assist you in discussing licensing terms and conditions and may also reach out to you directly.

Thank you for your consideration.

Best regards,

Robert Colao
