Chris,

I think the Court will just issue a schedule if the matter is not stayed, rather than resetting the case management conference. But we likewise will wait until the Court's scheduling order to serve infringement contentions.

Thanks,

Hi Vishal,

With the case management conference canceled and the court's existing OGP proposed deadlines keyed off that CMC date, Defendants will not be serving their invalidity contentions until after the Court sets a new case management conference. That said, please advise whether Plaintiff's will still be serving their infringement contentions on October 6.

Thanks,
Chris
